

PARTICIPATION PARTICIPATION PARTICIPATION

The Association of Graduates and Air Force Academy Foundation is once again hosting 1Day1USAFA, an annual day of giving to drive support for USAFA, cadets and graduate programs. This year, 1Day1USAFA is on May 8, just a couple weeks away.

1Day1USAFA is a chance for all of us to show our continued commitment to the mission through a little financial support, as I know all of you show your commitment daily through your time and your talent. It's also a chance for us to be competitive with our classmates and other classes, help show the importance of private support, and have a little fun.

This is not about the dollar amount donated, but to lead by example and show our commitment to supporting our Academy and elevating the cadet experience.

There will be a class giving leaderboard so we can see where our classes rank in both dollars raised and percentage of graduate participation, and a few graduates have already committed to challenge gifts to help motivate their classmates. Let's see what classes rise to the top!

How can you participate in 1Day1USAFA?

You can make a donation any time between now and 8 May to count toward your class participation challenge. And any amount to any fund for any purpose counts, from your Sabre Society renewal to a $10 gift.

Donate online – 1Day1USAFA.org

If you prefer to donate over the phone, please feel free to call Thomas Lenneberg with the Foundation at 719-247-8724.

Where can I designate my gift?

Your 1Day1USAFA gift can support any priority you are passionate about, whether that's the Air Force Academy Fund, the Preparatory School Fund or one of many others.

Is there a minimum gift amount?

There is no minimum gift amount. Please consider making a gift at whatever level you are comfortable with.

Remember, the key word is "participation." Please help!

Thank you.

PARTICIPATION PARTICIPATION PARTICIPATION

ReplyReply allForward

You can't react with an emoji to a large group